Introduction to Waterfowling ~ April 21, 2018

8:30 a.m. ~ 4:30 p.m.

A Snohomish County Private Hunt Club

Dear WOW enthusiast,

We are excited about your interest in Waterfowling and WOW's upcoming workshop. To help you understand what's involved, please note the following information. This outdoor education does not require that you have prior hunting experience, and you do not need a hunting license for this event.

To provide hands-on learning, the day will be conducted in duck hunting terrain. Activities will focus on shotgun use and shooting clays, decoying, calling, retrieving and field-to-table waterfowl preparation. We plan to hold the workshop rain or shine! Please dress accordingly. You will be outdoors most of the day.

What we will provide: A light breakfast and a hearty lunch, plenty of hot coffee or tea, water, and snacks
Shotguns, ammunition, shooting glasses, earplugs, handouts
An address for your GPS/Google Maps

What you need to bring: Rain gear, just in case
Warm clothing suitable for field activities
Waterproof knee boots, (optional) hip boots or waders - boots are absolutely necessary!
Slippers or warm socks for the clubhouse
In the interest of conservation, please bring your own water bottle

When WOW receives your completed registration with payment, a confirmation letter will be sent to you. It will include an agenda and the Club's address. A signed waiver (available at check-in) is required to participate. On April 21st look for a WOW banner on the Club's gate. The workshop sign-in will be held in the brick clubhouse just past the large brick barn. Parking is available next to the clubhouse.

Tear off and return the Registration portion below
